One of the first steps in the construction of the new auditorium—the removal of the Methodist Parsonage.

FOREWORD

The construction of a new building and the making of new and better citizens for tomorrow go hand-in-hand. This building must not only be shown on the surface but must begin with the molding of one's feelings in his own heart.

This O-at-kan of 1951 will show how Le Roy High School develops its students in growing socially and physically as well as mentally. When we leave Le Roy High School we will be equipped with both knowledge and experience which are so necessary for a successful future in this world of turmoil.

DEDICATION

IT IS WITH GREAT RESPECT AND ADMIRATION THAT THE CLASS OF 1951 DEDICATES THIS YEARBOOK TO JAMES R. PERRONE. HE HAS NOT ONLY MADE US FEEL THAT WE ARE HIS STUDENTS, BUT ALSO HIS FRIENDS. IT IS WITH THIS IN MIND THAT WE SAY "MANY THANKS" TO MR. PERRONE.

RECOGNITION

THE CLASS OF '51 GRATEFULLY GIVES SPECIAL RECOGNITION TO DONALD HERR, PRINCIPAL, WHO THROUGHOUT OUR HIGH SCHOOL YEARS HAS STOOD BY US WITH ADVICE AND FRIENDSHIP WHICH WE NEEDED SO BADLY.

The Board of Education

Harris MacKenzie, Clarence A. Lapp, Ralph L. Jenner, Almeron W. Wilcox
Grover W. Lapp, Sidney D. O'Shea, Lester A. Pridgeon

On the second Tuesday in July of every year a meeting of the voters of Le Roy is held at which the nominees to fill the open positions on the Board of Education are chosen. On the following afternoon, the people of Le Roy vote for those who they believe can best do the job. It seems like such a simple procedure; yet, without these men who so willingly give us their services, many problems which threaten our school would go unsolved.

The president of the board is Sidney D. O'Shea who manages the Genesee Valley Cereal Company; Lester A. Pridgeon, General Manager of the Le Roy Division of the General Foods Company, is secretary and clerk. Other members are Grover W. Lapp, consulting engineer for the Ceramic Industries, Clarence A. Lapp, who is associated with the Lapp Lumber Company, Ralph L. Jenner, president of the Lapp Insulator Company, Harris

Mackenzie, who operates a farm at the corner of the York and Harris Roads, and Almeron W. Wilcox, who also operates a farm at the corner of Circular Hill Road and the Oatka Trail.

These men are family men with children of their own attending school, and problems to solve like those of everyone else. Nevertheless, they give to us their time and energy with no tangible reward for their efforts, but the satisfaction of a task fulfilled. These men are gifted with the exceptional qualities that enable them to do their job well. They aid in improving the various associations within the school, such as sports, art and music. Our building and construction program now under way would never have been started if it were not for these unselfish men, who offer us their guidance, on the Board of Education.

A school building is an investment in youth. It is an expression of faith that each new generation holds an unfulfilled promise of greatness, which education can bring to fruition.

A school building is a symbol of democracy. It is a physical demonstration of a great belief that men are created equal and deserve an equal opportunity to develop their best talents to the limits of their abilities.

A school is a monument to the men and women of vision and courage who by their sacrifices through the years have made possible free education in a free America.

A school building is an empty shell that must have inspired teachers, devoted students, and a loyal supporting community before it can become alive.

In short, when the building is finished our work will have only begun.

Industrial arts, as a school subject, is the broad study of the materials, organization, tools, processes, products, jobs and the human problems of industry. It is developed through the planning and construction of projects of interest to pupils, discussions, observations and readings related to industry. Through the medium of tools and materials, it provides an opportunity for creative expression. It is necessary for the young pupil to keep pace with the current trends, and new developments in the world around him.

In the various homemaking classes the girls are given an opportunity to learn the basic sewing skills, wardrobe planning, simple meal preparation, personality development, care of the home, child care and successful family living. In the art department the students are taught mechanical drawing and fine arts. Craft work, as weaving, leather work, and some metal work, is taught so that each student can discover what work he enjoys doing best.

Literature, creative expression, both oral and written, and the functional language habits and skills combine to form the foundation for the English courses.

Classroom reading, supplemented by the students' choice of reading matter, is designed for enjoyment and appreciation. Through literature is developed a fine understanding of the ideals of living in a democratic society.

Through the medium of creative expression, students are encouraged to share their views and talents, several of them having their poems published in the National High School Poetry Anthology and other magazines. Participation in the WHEC Junior Town Meeting of the Air, and the WBEN Radio Forum, as well as classroom discussions, provide abundant opportunity for self expression.

To express themselves clearly and vividly, the students are taught correct and effective sentence construction, and extraction of thought from the printed page.

The language department of our school is limited to two languages, Latin and Spanish. Three years of Latin are offered and three years of Spanish. Students gain an appreciation of the lives, customs, and language of the people of ancient days in the one, or of the other, people of the Americas or Spain today. It is by study and understanding of the ways of life of other people that we begin to develop a better appreciation of our own way of life.

At Le Roy Central School, our science offerings are General Science, Health, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry.

These courses are taught to give the students the basic principles of scientific study. On the foundation of these studies can be erected the superstructures of many professions and careers. However, the primary thought of this work is to bring science into a closer relationship with each of our everyday lives.

"Book learning" and practical laboratory application join to form the scientific team. This team can aid in fitting each of us for more useful lives, in this present "scientific age."

Mathematics is a very old science. Its beginnings go back to the dawn of human history. It owes its origin to the fact that at all times people found it necessary to count and to measure. These processes developed naturally in connection with the most common everyday activities.

To this day, mathematics has continued to be a very live, constantly growing science. This remarkable growth is due to the fact that, like language, mathematics is of universal importance. The more mathematics contributes to the development of other sciences, the more dependent upon it they become.

It is a recognized fact that—"Mathematics is the Key and Applied Mathematics is the Tool whereby Man Conquers the Universe."

In the Freshman and Senior Social Studies, students learn about themselves and the adjustments necessary to successful living in a democracy. Freshmen study the essential contributions of the home, church, community, nation and world to the economic, political and social needs of all people. Seniors seek an adult understanding of some of the problems that challenge the individual, family, community, nation and the world.

Physical Education is a phase of general education based upon the principle of "learning by doing" and thus it is a part of life experience. Its aims and objectives are an integral part of the whole educational picture because it deals with each pupil and seeks to provide an opportunity for him to develop to the limit of his capacities through psychomotor activity. The fact that such activity cannot be separated from mental activity gives us the term "psychomotor development."

Here at Le Roy Central School, we have a program of activities that demands physical strength, social poise, grace, skill, and endurance. We might say in closing that Physical Education is more easily understood if one thinks of it as a subdivision of education which deals primarily with large muscles and large muscle groups.

Frequently, we of the Social Studies Department hear this question, "Why teach history?" There are many reasons.

In 1776 some courageous men took an unprecedented, bold step in declaring their independence from another country. These men and others like them fought for the freedom, justice, good life and the great country which we have now.

Today, when there is so much danger of Communism we must defend our Democracy. How can we defend Democracy if we do not know what it really is? To teach students the democratic way of life is a very important objective of this course.

We know that many of the isolated facts of history will soon fade from one's memory. However, it is our hope that certain attitudes and ideals, which have been fundamental in our society, will remain. These ideals are pride in our homes, community and nation; the belief in a good life, freedom, justice and equality. We have the responsibility of being an informed citizenry and of taking part in community and national affairs.

The interest in typing of LHS boys and girls stems from a desire to obtain clerical positions in civilian or military life or to help in doing college work.

Students who plan to enter the field of business also take Introduction to Business, Shorthand 1 & 2, Bookkeeping, Business Law, and Business Math.

Some of our Senior girls are engaged in part-time secretarial work, and we are confident that there will be local positions for those prepared.

Despite the fact that the music department has been, more or less, pushed into the background due to the building program, it still has managed to do its share in entertainment for the school and the public. Under the direction of Mr. William Lane, a music appreciation class has been started for those who show a keen interest in music development and technique. The purpose of all the fields in the music department is to acquaint the students with the best music literature and to promote good public relations.

The Woodward Memorial Library was given to the people of Le Roy in memory of the late Orator L. and Cora T. Woodward by their five children. Placed in the trusteeship of the Union Free School District No. 1 it opened in the spring of 1930. Being both a school and public library and having a book stock of approximately 19,000 volumes of standard reference works and books for pleasure reading, it affords the citizens of Le Roy a better opportunity than most school systems.

first the foundation and then the superstructure

Build your life on the foundation stones of belief in God, healthful living,

The aims of the Health Dept. are: to promote good health and good health habits—to train the children in the proper care of the body—to show the child the good and bad effects of certain habits on the general well being, both from the physical and mental standpoint—to have all defects corrected, as far as possible. This program helps to develop a physically normal individual, for a better way of living throughout his school life.

Our cafeteria system has become an effective means of satisfying our students with a warm nourishing lunch. It operates smoothly with the co-operation of four cooks and a number of high school girls who assist with serving and washing dishes. This method of serving has been in practice for four years at the Le Roy public schools, and has been very favorably accepted by students, teachers and parents.

In the fall of 1950, looking very sharp and nifty
We, the seventh graders, entered Le Roy High
There was lots of noise and fussin', but it wasn't "ussin' "
It's the carpenters who made the hammers fly
Very soon we felt at home with the boys and girls who roam,
While passing classes up and down the halls
With the monitors' advice, which we thought was very nice,
We unfamiliar ones were saved from falls
Our advisors' help was welcome, and the pointers that we got from Student Council, made us feel like taking part
So we really got together just like "birds of a feather"
And, with teamwork made a very splendid start.
We, the class of '56, although now we're full of tricks
Hope to conquer all the challenges we're given.
Only then can we be proud to tell all—right out loud
That we're Americans, and really livin' !
During our high school years, we shall conquer all our fears,
And give friendship to the coming seventh grade
We are willing now to bet, that we never will regret
Helping others, for in that way, friends we made
There is nothing like a pard to help you when it's hard
To get through some big, unfamiliar task
If you've helped a person out, you will never be in doubt
That he will help you, and you needn't have to ask
During all our years in school, we'll respect the golden rule
And the blocks of our foundation we've built here
Will stand sturdy and grow high 'till we're up in senior high
We'll be ready to take up again next year!

The pep and noise that's usually heard
By the eighth grade everyday
Was drowned out by the hammers and drills
That have suddenly come our way
It's the new construction and building plan
To make our school like new.
And as we watch them progress on
We see our dream come true!
We built our foundations well this year
By electing those, who we knew
Could do the job of leading us well,
And they have carried us through
With the help of our advisors, Mr. Frederick
And Miss Bernard
But without self-praise and selfishness,
We really did work hard
We have some fine musicians
In Junior High. They're grand!
In fact, they were so good some made
The Junior and Senior Band
The eighth grade basketball players
Won the series they played
With the help of their cheerleaders
Who cheered them on and "Hurrayed."

In the ping pong tournament
Bill Spence won the final game,
And Roxv Ferrara in checkers,
Put all the others to shame
We had no Christmas Party,
But we had more fun than you think!
For we held a skating party
At the Whirl-A-Way skating rink
Messrs. Horr, Fitch and Frederick
Chaperoned us there
And with them we had loads of fun
In which we all did share.
We've made throughout this 8th year
A name of which we're proud
And we shall plan our future
With the knowledge that's endowed
Upon us by our teachers
Our school because of you
We shall be good citizens
Loyal, just and true.
So ends our busy eighth grade year.
We'll see you by and by,
When we come back again next year
We'll be in first year high!

We are the class of "54"
 The mighty Freshmen—with talent galore.
 The St. Peter's class has arrived up here
 To complete our class for our high school year.
 At basketball games we sold popcorn and candy
 The cooperation was really dandy
 No one grumbled; they all worked fine
 And as a result we've got a gold mine
 In our treasury. For our first year
 We really did well and we're proud to be here!
 Most of the boys are on Jay-Vee teams
 Some may make Varsity next year it seems
 Many frosh girls went out for sports
 Soccer and tennis and games of all sorts
 Two freshmen made cheerleading (Jay-Vee)
 We're proud of them as well as of these
 Those who are in chorus and band,
 Those on Red Key who lend a helping hand,
 Those who hold our average high
 Those whose talents they apply
 To dramatics class and the Red and Black
 So that, as seniors, we won't lack
 In talent or other abilities needed
 To make our class go not unheeded
 We want to thank the upper classmen
 For giving help to us "lowly Freshmen."

For making us feel at home and accepted
 So that our morale would not be neglected
 Mr. Letko and Mr. Barone
 Have, as our advisers, shown
 Us how to make an even start
 Thanks from the bottom of our heart
 Our foundation has now been laid
 And the goal we hope to attain
 Is known by each and everyone
 And this year we have begun
 To reach this goal and we've no doubt
 That our class spirit will throughout
 Our happy high school days,
 Continue to grow and try to blaze
 The trail for others coming in
 And make them feel they've always been
 Students here at Le Roy High
 In whose hands such standards lie
 As honesty, leadership, and in trust
 And other such qualities that are a "must."
 Next year we hope to have our new school
 And we shall make an unwritten rule
 To make our lives worthwhile and right
 To keep our goal forever in sight
 And now, "Farewell," but we'll make it clear
 We'll be back as sophomores next year!

Three years ago under the guidance and help of Mrs. Reese, Mrs. Fox, and Mr. Cook we had a good time and put on a good show for the student body.

Under the leadership of Mr. Henderson and Mr. Frederick, our second year was packed with exciting and worthwhile fun.

One of our first duties in Senior High was selling refreshments at the basketball games, but that wasn't so much a duty as a lot of fun. The big success of the year was the freshman dance with the theme of "Cinderella" and an evening of Mike Ellingham's orchestra. Miss Uphill and Mr. Letko certainly guided us in the right direction.

Here we are as sophomores and having a wonderful time at it! The Sophomore dance was a great success with the theme of "Mardi Gras". Jack Bradbury and his decoration committee decorated the gym with gayly colored balloons, and red and white streamers from the ceiling. Danny Mooney and his band committee engaged the Rhythm Riders to provide music for round and square dancing. The ticket and publicity committees did some clever advertising.

Four sophomore boys are on the Varsity squad of football, and Joe Condidorio is on the first string playing fullback. Seven play Junior Varsity. The sophomores have good Junior Varsity cheerleaders: Fanny Bossart, "Shonie" Frank, "Barb" Brodie, Nancy Frost and Nancy Fisher.

There are quite a few sophomores on the talkative part of the year. Eleven girls entered the Sophomore Speaking Contest.

Before we say good-bye, the class of "53" would like to thank our advisors who took the time to help and guide us. Thank you Mrs. Williams and Mr. Babcock. We could never have made it without you.

Having laid the foundation of leadership and citizenship in our freshman and sophomore years, we, the class of '52 as Juniors, are well prepared for the additional responsibilities of upper classmen.

Amid the noise and bustle of the reconstruction program, the junior class, has had a rewarding and successful year. We started things off right by electing an excellent group of officers: Dennis Fanning, President, Dorothy Heaman, Vice President, Jeanne MacKenzie, Secretary and Evelyn Paladino, Treasurer. Dorothy Heaman is the first girl to be Vice President of our class. We were also fortunate to have two such capable advisors as Miss Smith and Mr. Utter. Under their guidance we have participated in many and various activities.

Two out of three prizes of the Larkin Speaking Contest went to Juniors in the persons of Patricia Parton and Elizabeth McAllister. Jeanne MacKenzie and Jeanne Miller did a fine job on the "Junior Town Meeting" discussing "Do Teenagers Have Too Much Freedom?" We have had several amateur programs in which many of our class took part.

In the music department we are well represented in both band and chorus. Roger Thorkildsen attended the All State Chorus at Syracuse. A new class this year called music appreciation is composed mostly of juniors.

We have also been very active in all phases of sports. Don Poles and Frankie Cooper are star football players. There are many of us who rank in baseball and basketball as well as G. A. A. and cheerleading.

In the field of journalism we are well represented on the Red and Black. Many others show their dramatic ability in "Dramatic Class."

The highlight of every junior year, the Junior Prom, was a great success. Don Poles, the chairman of the decorating committee, did a commendable job on the gym. Young and old danced in the starry moonlight to the theme "Dancing In The Dark."

The junior year to many, is the most important, for now their future careers are becoming more important. Some of our members will be going to college while many others will join the armed forces. Still others will be planning marriages and business careers.

So far in our high school we feel that we have built the framework for a happy and prosperous future and we will continue to build on the structure through our senior year until we are sure that we will become successful citizens of tomorrow.

Throughout our memorable high school years, we have learned, at least we hope we have learned, what the difference is between a noun and a verb, how we add and subtract, that H^2O is water, and that Peking is a city in China, not a practice that is common every time we have a test. With many tears and laughs, many ups and many downs, we have finally reached our glorious goal—to be mighty Seniors!

We remember how important we felt when we became freshmen, members of the Senior high school. What fun we had selling pop and candy at the basketball games! We really buckled down when our freshman dance came around, and we were very proud of its success. With our treasury fairly bursting at the end of our first year, we could honestly say that we had lived down the name of "problem children" that had haunted us through grade school and junior high.

In September of '48, we returned as sophomores, more willing than ever to start piling the blocks on one sturdy foundation. Having homerooms on the top floor made us feel independent, so with the Christmas spirit in our hearts and confidence in our minds we went to work to compete with the freshmen on Christmas decoration in our homeroom. We won, too! The annual Sophomore speaking contest was considered one of the best Le Roy has ever had. Our Sophomore dance was just as successful as our freshman dance, and our treasury was in very fine shape.

Then came our eventful and fateful junior year. We were close to the top; the bricks and blocks were stacked high and straight but the cement began to crumble. Although everyone enjoyed himself immensely at our prom, we lost quite a sum of money

While we can laugh about it now, the mix up of having two orchestras show up that night nearly broke our hearts. The Larkin Speaking Contest had many good juniors participating, and our Junior Larkie helped us back to our feet financially. Toward the end of that year, we felt as if we had met our Waterloo—and defeated it. It was our first hard year—a challenge—and we had met it successfully.

Now, as Seniors, we have finally learned how to live with others and how to make the most of our lives. The foundation was strong; the blocks were straight; the cement did hold after all, and we are sure we can face the future squarely without cowering at the least little failure, for we believe that even through failure, we profit, and it helps us to success. Many of our Senior boys are already in the service of their country. Our class, besides having the usual talented people, such as great singer, dramatic star and football hero, without a doubt will produce another kind of hero as a result of the Korean War, that will never be forgotten. As a result of the understanding, self-sacrificing teachers that are at L. H. S., we have learned responsibility, equality and citizenship.

With the new school that is miraculously taking shape around us, we have seen that we have grown just as it is now growing. Through our every day class routine, our ball games and other curricular activities we have grown mentally, physically and spiritually. In years to come we'll heave a sigh, and stop to think of Le Roy High. Every joy and every sorrow we've had here will be, tomorrow, dearer and nearer to every heart. We realize now, as we part, when we are ready to say "Good-bye" our life began at Le Roy High.

The Class of '51 need not depart thinking they have nothing to remember, for, similar to former graduating classes, we have our yearbook, the "O-at-kan."

There isn't one person in the class who hasn't in some way, contributed to this book. It is ours and ours alone, although there is plenty of hard work connected with the publishing of our O-at-kan and many worries, too, now that it is all over we know it was worth it.

The O-at-kan contains information on all activities pertaining to the school. The highlights of the school year, faculty and student members, different classes and societies are all contained inside the covers of the yearbook.

Many activities were undertaken to raise money for the '51 O-atkan. The most successful of these undertakings was the Spaghetti Supper. More fun than work went into the supper, and yet it was one of the best ever presented by the Senior classes of Le Roy High School. The advertising staff worked hard procuring ads from the business men and women in the community for the support of the O-at-kan. Those who were on the photography staff certainly deserve credit for their grueling task. But most outstanding of all, was our editor-in-chief, who seemed to be everywhere at once, giving orders, advice and a pat on the back for a job well done. Surely no job was so well done as her own.

Naturally we all have memories that will linger in our hearts as happy moments in our high school years. We couldn't forget our first dance or the football games even if we tried. But if ever they grow dim as years go by, we can always open up this very book, and see our memories pictured and printed right before our eyes. Then it will be more than the "O-at-kan" an annual yearbook: it will be the greatest link on our golden chain of life, proving that our happiest memories were lived and experienced within the treasured walls of Le Roy High.

Are you looking for facts and news about the students of Le Roy High? Well, you've come to the right place. Just step into the Red and Black office. Don't mind all our scurrying reporters, for an issue of our paper is just coming out. Last minute proofs and write ups have to be done! Well, that's the newspaper business.

You are now probably wondering about the Red and Black. We will try to give you some information about our paper. First of all, the Red and Black carries information on assemblies, games, dances and other current events during the school year. It also keeps us up-to-date on school and student gossip, hit songs, movies, and other curiosity bait.

The paper gives everyone, from the freshman year up, a chance to develop his interest in journalism. All positions are based on previous work, ability, cooperation, punctuality, willingness to work and interest in the paper. Reporters may write features, news, alumni, or sports articles. They may also help with circulation, photography and exchange.

The paper is not all work and no play. Every year two editorial staff members and the advisor attend the Empire State Press Association conference at Syracuse. There are other various conferences held during the year which members of the paper may attend. The Red and Black also sponsors a dance. This year it was round and square and proved to be very successful and a lot of fun. Also slated for the Red and Black editors is a party. Every year there is at least one get-together at a lake, picnic grounds or someone's home. At this time the paper is forgotten and everyone has a gay time.

Our school paper holds an unchallenged place in the highlights of the school year. Its articles, "Trigon Trifles," jokes and snappy remarks bring information and many chuckles to all who read it.

National Honor Society

Officers: E. Graham, I. Call, W. Scott, R. Gyr, J. Ewart, A. Clark
 Secretary: D. Heaman, J. Mackenzie, L. Lachnicht, C. Stettinius, V. Myers, S. Smith, M. J.
 Treasurer: D. Brodie, L. O'Geen, Miss Fortmiller, S. Center, R. Myers

On the ninth of March, 17 students, seven boys and ten girls, stood in the stage of our auditorium and recited this creed:

"I believe in real knowledge, acquired through an open mind, unfettered by prejudice. I believe that character is the foundation of the highest type of scholarship. I believe that unselfish service is my privilege and responsibility. I believe that character, scholarship and service impose responsibilities of leadership. I trust that I shall be as ready to lead as to follow, when leadership is demanded of me.

"Therefore, believing in knowledge, character, service and leadership, I rejoice in the obligations which membership in this National Honor Society places upon me, and I will do my best to fulfill its spirit and purpose."

The words are familiar to us all, yet everytime they are said, a new emotion rises within us. Looking at the radiant faces of the students on stage, seeing that special light in their eyes made all the brighter by tears of joy, gives us a feeling of deep pride.

This society, guided by Miss Evelyn Fortmiller, best fits the theme of our yearbook. For, what better foundation is there, than one built on leadership, knowledge, character and service?

Only a small percentage of the class are given the honor to be a member of this society. The seniors in the Honor Society are Sally Smith, Lena O'Geen, Douglas Brodie, Sallie Center, Robert Myers, Edward Graham, Lois Lachnicht, Ann Clark, Mary Jane Mancuso and Rudolph Gyr. Seven deserving juniors were elected this spring. They were Jeanne Mackenzie, William Scott, Irving Call, Dorothy Ann Heaman, James Ewart, Virginia Myers and Carol Stettinius.

These students have charge of the point system for the English I. Every year, they also go caroling at the Old Folks Home in East Bethany taking them Christmas gifts of fruit and candy.

The March induction program had as its principal speaker, Mr. George Coburn, Mayor of Perry, who challenged his audience to seek opportunity and rely upon initiative, rather than to seek security. He reminded his audience that we obtain our security when we make use of every available opportunity and talent.

Red Key Society

[illegible]

One of the most important features of our school is the Red Key Society. It is a comparatively new organization that was formed to give recognition to the boys and girls who unselfishly give of their time and effort to do jobs for which the school would ordinarily have to hire people to do.

Student Council Officers

Mr. Hoor, Mr. Elder, E. Graham, Pres. Mrs. I. Dravo, Sec. M. E. Crowley, Vice Pres., & Center, Treas.

Every year, when spring is "just around the corner," walk into Le Roy High School. You will find various signs proclaiming which seniors-to-be best for leading Student Council the following year. It is one of the biggest and most important decisions every class has to make.

The class of '51 chose as their leaders Edward Graham and Mary Ellen Crowley. To help them were Ursula Dravo, Sallie Center and the other representatives from all classes. The regular functions of Student Council are such duties as selling football programs, being in charge of busses for the basketball and football games, taking charge of dances after the football games, supervising election of cheerleaders and holding their own annual Sadie Hawkins dance. This dance is for the whole student body; it is considered by all as the most informal and enjoyable dance of the year.

Student Council also presents important school topics to students, such as whether or not we should have Christmas parties. Plans for class functions, such as dances, must be brought before Student Council and approved. Sometime during the year the president and vice-president of the Council visit similar student governments so that different schools may share their ideas to improve the methods.

One of the big problems of this year, due to the building program, was how to avoid confusion and possible accidents in the halls. Student Council solved this problem very wisely by having a monitor system. It worked effectively, and there was fine cooperation on the part of the student body.

However, Student Council is more than just an organization; it is a class representation of the students. All are given an equal chance to show their ability in leadership and citizenship. It helps to build fine character and improve personalities. It is not unlike our democratic form of government with president, vice-president and representatives of the states. Le Roy has had a Student Council to be proud of for twenty-three years, and we know that with the capable officers elected for next year, it will continue to be as active and as American as it has been in the past.

Sophomore Speaking Contest

The sixteenth annual Sophomore Speaking Contest was held this year on March ninth at the Woodward Memorial Library, due to the building and construction program now in progress at the Le Roy High School.

The participants seemed to take a serious and philosophical outlook on life, for the majority of speeches were based on grave subjects that left people thinking.

The contenders in the order of the speeches were Bernadine Kunego, Martha Carr, Louise Byers, Janice Shepard, Mary Trumbore, Betty Bossart, Marlene MacKenzie, Sylvia Matthews, Nancy Fischer, Marie Baglio and Nancy Clark. First prize was awarded to Louise Byers for her presentation of "Many Moons", by James Thurber; Marie Baglio won second prize for her speech, "A Precious Memory", the author of which was anonymous; third prize was won by Nancy Clark with her "Little Miss 156" by John Cleary. Chairman of the program was Nancy Frost.

All the participants were awarded silver oratory pins with the exception of the winners who received gold oratory pins with the place and the date engraved on the back.

Much praise and many thanks must be given to Mrs. Ivy Balmer for her direction of the program and approval of the contestants' speeches. Without her leadership, it would not be possible to conduct these contests. She has been directing the Sophomore Speaking Contest since 1935, when the first one was held.

The awards are made possible through the generosity of the late Thomas W. Larkin, who left a fund for the speaking contests. They were awarded by the judges, Mrs. Paul Kennedy, Mrs. Ralph Jenner and Mr. Orrin J. Mitchell, Jr.

Larkin Speaking Contest

To aid in the building of confidence and corrective speech, the Larkin Speaking Contest was held on November 17, 1950, under the direction of Mr. Walter C. McRoberts. This contest has been a tradition in Le Roy High School for many years due to the great generosity and interest of the late Thomas W. Larkin.

This year the participants were Renee Whybra, Jeanne Miller, Ann Patrick, Victoria Argana, Patricia Parton, Anne Iannello, Ursula Dravo, Alice LaBelle and Elizabeth McAllister. The winners were as follows: Ursula Dravo, first prize of $15 for her speech "Drama As An Art"; Patricia Parton, second prize of $10 for her topic, "Korea"; and Elizabeth McAllister for her oration on "The Art of Growing Up." All the speeches were original, and the topics were the choice of the girls taking part in the contest.

The winners this year were judged by Miss Barbara Woodward, Mrs. William Robbins, and Mr. Orrin J. Mitchell, Jr. Awarding of prizes was made by Mr. Walter C. McRoberts.

There is no doubt as to whether this tradition will be continued in the new building. As long as students show interest in the art of speaking, and as long as we have the guidance of a teacher like Mr. McRoberts, this contest will remain a permanent fixture in Le Roy High and a never-to-be-forgotten experience for the boys and girls who have ever competed in it.

Senior Play Cast

SENIOR PLAY CAST: R. Gyr, R. Myers, J. Lamendola, A. Argana, A. Iannello, J. Dravo, J. Hall, R. Whybra

The Class of '51 presented the Senior Play on March 19th and 20th. It was a three act comedy entitled "The Late Christopher Bean," by the distinguished playwright, Sidney Howard.

Mr. Christopher Bean, a painter, had died in a small New England village, leaving nothing but a few paintings to pay his doctor bill. Dr. Haggett and his family were quite surprised when an old friend of Christopher's visited them, paid the bill, and left with a few pictures as mementoes. This happened with another old friend also, but the biggest surprise came when a New York art critic arrived to pay his respects to the memory of the dead artist. How they searched to find the paintings when they learned his daubs were worth a fortune! A mad scramble ensued with Abby, the servant girl, in the thick of it.

The cast of characters was: James Hall as Dr. Haggett, Rudolph Gyr as Mr. Davenport, Anne Iannello as Ada, Ursula Dravo as Susan, Victoria Argana as Mrs. Haggett, Joseph Lamendola as Rosen, Edward Graham as Warren, Robert Myers as Tallant, and Renne Whybra as the sweet tempered, wistful Abby. All of these seniors, under the capable direction of Mr. Walter C. McRoberts, made "The Late Christopher Bean" one of the most unforgettable plays ever presented at Le Roy High.

They made us actually be a part of the story, for, as we saw them, they were the real characters in a really entertaining situation. It is, in itself, highly amusing right up to the unusual climax.

Other committees, headed by Lois Lachnicht, Lena O'Geen, Claire Calmes, William Strobel and Ann Clark did a highly commendable job. The prompters and the students who furnished the props also should be congratulated for doing that hard task so well. We, the Class of '51, will not soon forget the hard work and fun that went into the Senior Play, and the satisfaction that surged through us when it was over.

Chorus Christmas Program

With the opening of school last September, boys', girls' and mixed choruses were introduced to their new music teacher, Mr. William T. Lane. Right from the very beginning everything was fine. We started the mixed chorus with Fred Waring arrangements that are familiar and loved by all.

In Boys' chorus there are about fifty students divided according to ability into a tenor group, a first bass group and a second bass group. They have worked on "Dry Bones", "Bells", and other similar songs.

The Girls' chorus is divided into first and second soprano groups, and first and second alto groups. Some of their songs were "Turn Ye to Me", and the "Lobster Quadrille." There are about seventy-five girls under Mr. Lane's direction in this group.

Mixed chorus has about one hundred boys and girls contributing to it. "Ezekill Saw De Wheel" and "I Dream of You" were the best developed by this group of singers.

The Christmas Concert was a very splendid program enjoyed by all who were spectators and participants. The Girls' Chorus sang "White Christmas," which was their best performance of the night. The boys' best arrangement was "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen." However, the highlight of the program was the mixed chorus's "The Night Before Christmas."

The class of '51 will certainly miss the happy times we've had with Mr. Lane and the unforgettable programs put on as a result of his fine direction.

Operetta

Under the direction of Mr. William T. Lane, the choral groups presented the hilarious Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial by Jury." During the rehearsals and chorus periods, the business of producing costumes worried everyone, for all the people in mixed chorus, as well as those on stage, needed them.

Lois Lachnicht, our lovely soprano, had the lead of Angelina, the jilted bride. We learned that Robert Myers has a wonderful voice when he portrayed the learned judge. The jury was won over to Angelina's side by her beauty, while the bridesmaids swooned over the fickle lover, Edwin, who was really Roger Thorkildsen in disguise. Many others helped to make the operetta a success such as the usher, James Hall, Council for the plaintiff, Doug Brodie, Council for the defendant, Jack Bradbury, and Eddie Graham, the indifferent prankster, who really stole the show. James Roth acted as Clerk of the Court.

This is the first year we have had Mr. Lane for a director, and we, the Seniors, will sadly leave his musical groups this June. However, we can be sure of the fine work continuing as long as we know he is behind it, molding it to his liking and having fun doing it.

Senior Band

S. Smith, Lieutenant; R. Myers, Captain; R. Thorkildsen, Lieutenant

Under the very able direction of Mr. William T. Lane, our Senior Band this year has shown just what it really can do. This is Mr. Lane's first year with us, but already we feel that he is an old friend. Along with him, Mr. Lane brought many new ideas new at least to us. For instance, instead of electing the customary officers, we chose Bob Myers to head the band and Lieutenants Sally Smith and Roger Thorkildsen to help with the job.

The band is functioning with many good purposes in mind. Here are some of them:

- (1) To acquaint the students with the best musical literature for band.
- (2) To improve techniques and performance in solo and ensemble work.
- (3) To provide music for football games, public observances and parades.
- (4) To promote good public relations.

The marching band was really something to and gave every member a thrill of pride to be a part of such a smooth working outfit. The entire band has given a commendable performance on the march; keeping up the morale at football games both at home and away, and in being a part of many parades in town. Certainly we cannot leave without mentioning Midge Roth, our Drum Majorette, who has done such an excellent job in leading this year.

Another of Mr. Lane's ideas was that the band should accompany the chorus at the Christmas Concert. This was rather difficult, because there are many who are members of both band and chorus. Also the brass section was so loud, it nearly drowned out the chorus's singing. But with all the difficulties straightened out, "White Christmas" was very effective with the girls' chorus and the band. "The Night Before Christmas" went over very well with the flutes and oboes giving an extra-special touch added to Fred Waring's arrangement of this favorite.

Now we are looking forward to the Music Festivals this spring. We are hoping for the highest honor for our musicians.

None of us who attended the Arcade Music Festival in November will ever forget that experience or the jitter bug exhibition Mr. Lane put on.

So with many fond memories we look back on this past year, the first of—we hope—mark with Mr. Lane.

Although this year's Junior Band has not appeared in public, it has never the less made steady and praiseworthy progress. Grades five through eleven had players in the band, representing their classes with musical talent.

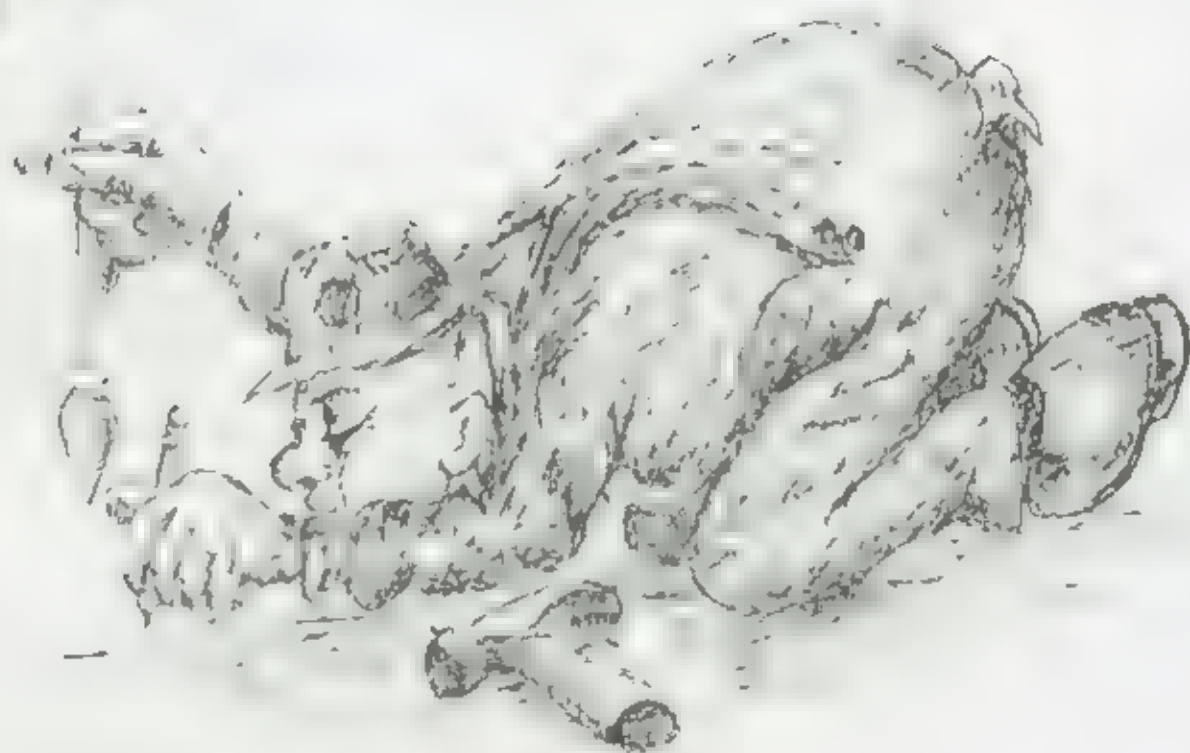

Despite the confusion of the reconstruction program, many have proven themselves worthy to be members of the Senior Band next year. All Junior Band members look forward to the day when they will be parading down the field during the football season as members of the "High School Band".

With the return to the normal schedule next year, the Junior Band will again get underway, and take its place in the music programs. It will be a performing group as well as a learning group, and it will undoubtedly provide enjoyable entertainment for the people interested in musicals and musical talent.

Foundation is laid for entrance to new auditorium.

ATHLETICS

BUILDING PHYSICALLY

Girl's Athletic Association

E. Paladino, Sec. A. A. A. — Midge Roth, Pres. — Miss Dungan, L. O'Geen, Vice Pres.

The year 1950-1951 has been very successful in regard to the Girls' Athletic Association. The "Event of the Year" is probably the "sharp" G.A.A. jackets that a lot of the girls have been wearing.

Before summer vacation the girls of Le Roy High elected "Midge" Roth as president of the G.A.A. She was assisted by Lena O'Geen, Vice President; Evelyn Paladino, Secretary; and Virginia Myers, Treasurer.

Intramurals ranked high among the girls this year as in previous years in spite of the confusion of the new building construction. In the fall the soccer season started out with a bang with four teams headed by Lois Lachnicht, Ann Clark, Kay Powers and Dorothy Russell. Dorothy's team came through with flying colors, being undefeated, but Lois's team gave them no easy time of it and came in in second place.

Basketball then started full swing with a very enthusiastic group of girls showing up faithfully every game. Competition was hot and heavy. In the Freshman and Sophomore league "Josie" Zambito, Joan Blood, Grace Ann Symonds, Carrie Cordaro, Barbara Brodie and Rita Sheffer headed the six teams. "Sukey" Whybra, Mary Olivier, Virginia Myers, Ingrid Wickenden and Lois Handyside were captains of the five Junior and Senior teams. Sukey's team won first place; Mary's, second and Virginia's, third.

In volleyball the girls were slugging it out in two leagues with four teams each. Bowling was very successful with two leagues, eight teams with four girls on each.

There was an exciting tennis tournament this fall. The winners, Nancy Fisher, "Shonie" Frank, Peggy Mancuso, "Josie" Zambito, Rose Marie Regone and Virginia Myers then went to Batavia to play their winners. The results were very good; we lost two, tied two, and won two. Tennis was then up again in the spring along with an exciting season of softball. The girls were knocking home run after home run!

Badminton, ping pong and archery which were usually played had to be sacrificed because of the building project.

During the course of the year we had 16 play-days and at each one everyone had a good time. There were several G. A. A. parties also. Two skating parties were held at Batavia and at Silver Lake. Vicki and Evelyn had an especially good time playing hide and seek??? A swimming party was held at Batavia and we had a Halloween party here in the gym. Everyone had a wonderful time at all of them.

During the course of the year the girls have shown sportsmanship. These sports are not only building us physically but they are adding to our character also.

Girl's Sport Shots

First out of doors sport is soccer and the girls are full of pep as they scramble to keep the ball

Volleyball tournament starts and the girls volley for points

Girls now journey to Legion Bowling Alleys where they take part in the High School Bowling league

Girls leap for jump ball as teams compete for lead in basketball tournament

Girl's Sports

"Watch the Birdie," because now the girls' gym classes are playing badminton. The girls played both singles and doubles.

A quiet and relaxing sport is enjoyed by the girls' physical education classes when they start playing croquet.

"Swing your partner" is the call and the girls enjoy a good old square dance.

Batter up! Softball shows the sign of spring and the girls once again are glad to be out of doors for classes.

Girl's Sports

Archery tactics are put into practice as the girls aim for the target

Spring is here and the girls move to Willows Courts to hold their tennis tournament

As cold weather was still here when the gym was torn down, the girls held a checker tournament in the basement of the Library

Spring is not here yet, so girls enjoy a table tennis tournament while still holding classes indoors

Boys' Athletic Association

Back Row J. Traubert, Treas. J. Arthur, Pres.
Front Row W. Scott, Vice Pres. Mr. Howe, J. Lamendon, Sec.

In the past the Boys' Athletic Association was an organization including all the boys in the High School and they were required to pay a two dollar membership fee. This fee and the money taken in at the games was used to finance the different teams. It was governed by a board of directors.

Under the present system, there is really no such thing as a Boys' Athletic Association for there are no dues, and consequently no real members. The organization consists of four representatives from the students who are President, Vice-president, Secretary, and Treasurer—the High School Principal, and the Director of Athletics. The four student representatives are chosen by voting in the gym classes.

The organization as it is set up now is entirely for the purpose of taking care of the finances of all sports. These include football, basketball, baseball, track, and any other minor sports which the school might carry such as volleyball, golf, etc. The B. A. A. gets all the money that is taken in at the games to support the teams; but as not enough is made, the Board of Education makes up the difference.

At present the basketball and football seasons are finished and both have turned out well. The football team had a record of six won—two lost. The basketball team, after a slow start, finished the season with a record of ten wins and eight losses. The B. A. A. this year bought new football suits and new basketball warm-ups that were really nice.

Baseball season is just around the corner and with several of the regulars back they should have a good season. There has also been some talk of starting a tennis team this year.

Now let us take a look at the possibilities in the future for a Boys' Athletic Association. If all the boys paid dues, a regularly organized program could be set up which would include banquets, speakers, and movies. We could even have suppers and fun night like the members of the G. A. A. do. Maybe we should take a tip from the girls. Then the organization would have a purpose other than just a financial one.

This past year Le Roy has again turned out a fine football team. Under one of the biggest coaching staffs ever to coach a high school team, the season ended with the team having a final record of six wins and two losses. The coaches included—Vernon Babcock, head coach; Mr. Barone and Mr. Fitch, teachers who offered their services; Mr. Hase, Director of Physical Education; Mr. Petroff, a cadet from Cortland; and last but not least, Francis Longhini, who served of his own free will.

The beginning of the season saw seventeen members of last year's squad missing and only eleven returning lettermen including Co-captains Scanlon and Millman. Around these eleven boys Coach Babcock started early in September to shape up his squad. He put them through rough practices mostly after school but sometimes at night.

The first game of the season saw the team journey to Canandaigua where they showed great strength in winning by a count of 26-0. All members of the squad saw action.

Next the team overpowered Monroe 26-7 on the modern Franklin Field in Rochester. Still on the road the "Mighty Midgets" as they were dubbed, tangled with Medina. The J. V.'s lost a close preliminary, but the Varsity followed by soundly trouncing the Medina Red-men 31-13 and living up to their name. The average weight of the first team was 151 pounds, 147 pound average for the line and 156 pound average for the backfield.

The next four games were played at home against the three A's—Albion, Akron, and Amherst, and then Batavia.

The team did not disappoint the home fans as they trounced Albion 31-6 and then continued on their winning ways by beating Akron 19-0. Following this the "Mighty Midgets" came up against Amherst who outweighed them tremendously. In this game the Le Royans hit their peak of the season and defeated them 30-13. This was their sixth win in a row without a defeat.

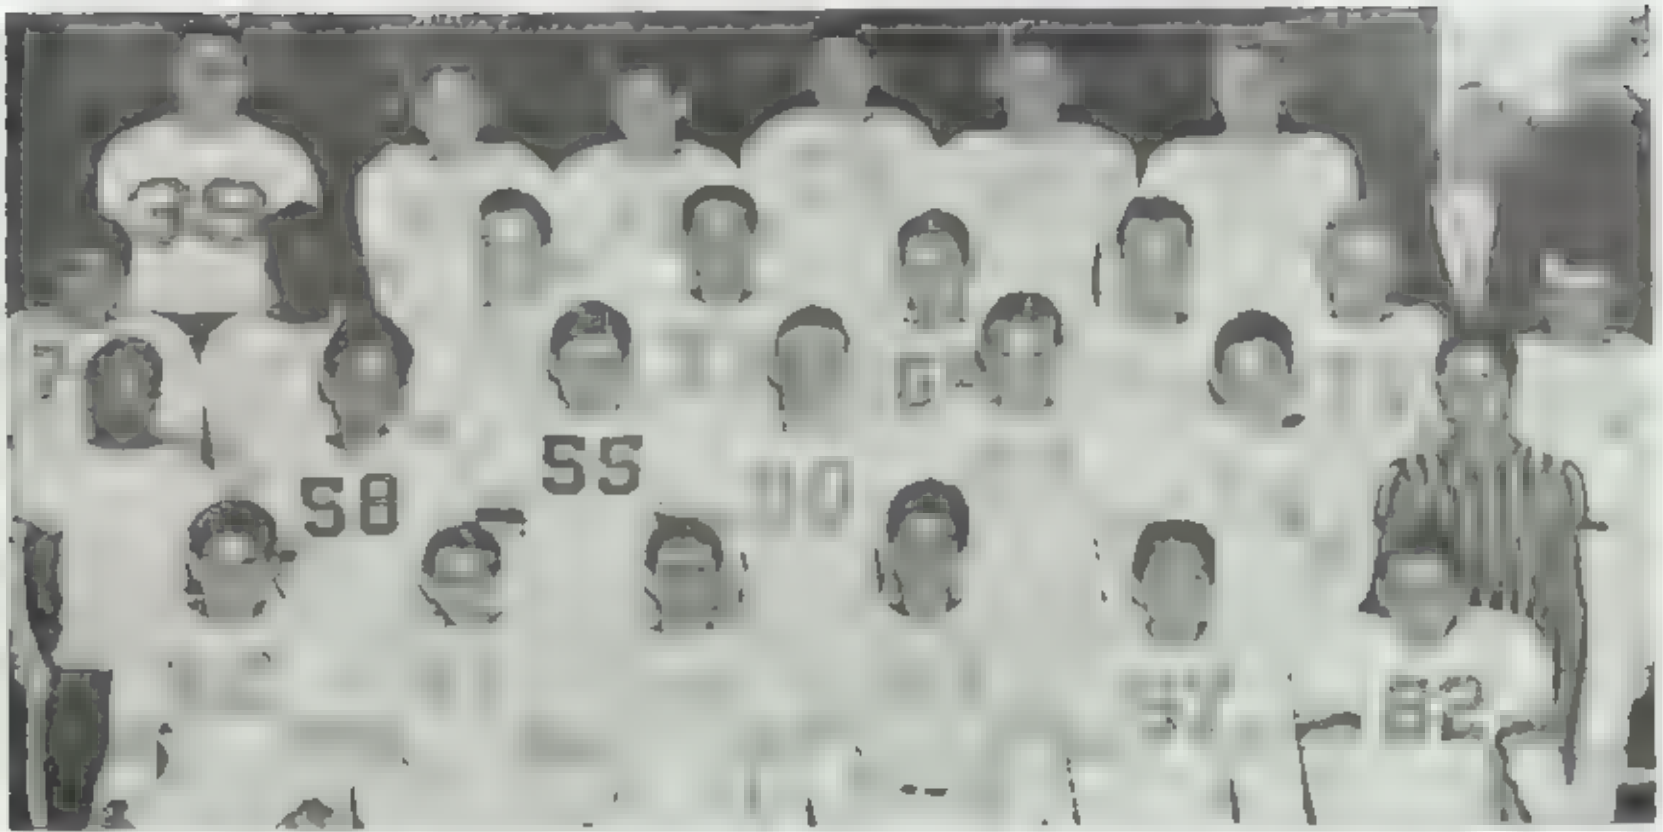

The Batavia game was postponed from Friday until Monday because of rain. On Monday the team lost their first game 13-6 at the hands of the Batavia team.

The final game was at Caledonia and because of lack of rest and it was the anti-climatical game the team couldn't get going and lost 31-7.

Post season activities saw the business men hold a banquet for the players. The letters were handed out and Don Poles and Frank Cooper were elected Co-captains for next year.

It ends football and here's hoping for another good season next year.

Baseball season is here again and the boys are practicing hard. Mr. Mangefrida has lost many of last year's starting line-up but the team does have some players left from last year's to build around this year.

Credit is certainly due to the team of last year. There was a smooth working outfit that really had something on the ball as their record shows. After winning the league title, the team went on to the sectionals to win the quarter-finals from Warsaw, 19-1; the semi-finals from Painted Post, 4-0, and the finals from Waterloo, the first time in the history of Le Roy High, that the baseball team won this goal.

A gold trophy was presented to the team and in addition each player was given an N Y S P H S A A shield, which symbolizes a sectional champion.

Bowling and Table Tennis Tournaments

On March 26, five boys from Le Roy journeyed to Albion to try for a place in the Genesee-Orlean Bowling League. Le Roy's five man team took second place. This meant that Charles Burr, Leonard Iannello, Michael Klinkheil, Donald Laurie, and Rexford Miller would now go to Rochester to compete in the finals.

In the singles competition at Albion, Rex Miller took first place. On April 17, he then went to Rochester and took second place. Donnie Laurie and Rex Miller also came in second in the finals.

This was the first time Le Roy went to the Bowling Sectionals and they all came back with honors which Le Roy High School can be proud of.

Progress rapidly continues as the wall to the new auditorium goes up. As we near the end of our yearbook, we are only beginning the building of our school a school which will send forth better citizens of tomorrow

WISS HOTEL

On May 2, 1951, the corner stone of the Memorial Auditorium and gymnasium building on the campus of Le Roy Central School was laid, by Sidney D. O'Shea, president of the Board of Education.

To represent the various groups, the speakers included, Edward M. Perkins, editor of the village paper; Village President R. Ellsworth Bradbury; Dr. Paul Jenks, president of the Parent-Teachers Association; Jared L. M. Uphill, district school superintendent; Edward Graham, retiring president of Student Council; and William Scott, new president of the student body. Superintendent of Schools Matthew W. Gaffey presided over the program and the invocation was given by the Rev. Herbert W. H. Cory, pastor of the Methodist Church.
